TCBC 2026 Christmas APPEAL

FUEL CRISIS

For 80 years, Mission Aviation Fellowship (MAF) has been delivering help, hope and healing to some of the most remote and underserved communities on earth. In places where few can reach, MAF's flights provide an essential lifeline, bridging the gap between isolation and opportunity.

Fuel costs are rising fast – and it's already impacting MAF operations.

At MAF, fuel is so valuable. Fuel becomes:

- a mother reaching medical care before it's too late.
- food, vaccines and relief reaching families cut off by conflict, floods or distance.
- support for people displaced by the crisis in Sudan.
- transport for pastors and Christian workers to isolated communities,
- a connection for people who would otherwise be cut off.

As fuel prices rise, the cost of keeping MAF planes flying puts increasing pressure on their operations. But the need isn't going away.

A sustained increase in fuel prices will ground flights. MAF is facing an additional $300 000 over the next 3 months to keep flight operations stable.

Your gift towards MAF's Fuel Crisis will help keep planes ready for the next call, the next patient, the next village and the next opportunity to share God's love through their Fuel Fund.
